The Guild of Book Workers Newsletter
Number 159 — April 2005

Guild News
PRESIDENT’S REPORT

The Guild has decided to embark on another project in conjunction with its hundredth anniversary in 2006: to canvas its current membership for archival information for its files. The Archives Questionnaire is enclosed with this April Newsletter.

To date, the most comprehensive report on the field of bookbinding in America was the article written by Lawrence S. Thompson entitled “Hand Bookbinding in the United States since the Civil War,” published in Libri in 1954. Thompson did an admirable job of trying to cover the activities in the various centers around the country but the coverage was uneven. In some cases, he went into considerable detail with their stories, but in others he simply mentioned names in passing. It remains the best account that we have.

Trying to flesh out more information about those names, and then to add the names and basic information of those who were active in the remaining half of the twentieth century is the task that many of us are working on to present at the Centennial Symposium. It is a challenge to say the least. The field has no central repository for this sort of information; no library that we know of has taken it up as their special cause. Our own Guild Archives has a great deal of information in it, but is still distressingly incomplete, particularly in regard to basic information about our members. Barbara Kretzmann, our acting archivist, finds that some of the best information she has on individuals comes from the early membership questionnaires that were required when someone joined—a requirement the Guild now does not have.

In the early days of the Guild, when the activities were centralized in New York, it was easier to collect additional material, such as newspaper clippings, to add to the files. But now that the Guild is spread out across the country, that material is not being collected, or at any rate is not finding its way back to the general GBW Archives.

The result is that information on our current GBW membership, numbering almost 1,000 members, is virtually non-existent in our own files. Who we are, where have we come from, and what work we do are questions that we would be hard put to answer—beyond the brief information in the annual Membership Directory. It is for that reason that we are circulating the enclosed questionnaire and encouraging everyone to fill it out. The occasion of our hundredth anniversary is a good excuse for us to stop and take a census; to try to get a picture of who we are, where we come from, and what we do, both as individuals and collectively.

This is another extremely ambitious project. The 100% participation that we hope for may be a dream. But it is another instance where anything is better than nothing, and every little bit helps. We can only try. As for the question of what we plan to do with that information, the answer depends to a large extent on the response. If only a few respond, the information will simply be filed in the Archives to be made available on request. If a statistically significant number were to respond, we might be able to analyze the responses, extrapolate from them, and come up with some interesting statistics. Unfortunately, developing a proper Who's Who in the field—a most appealing idea—is probably beyond our means at the moment.

The success of the project depends totally on you—each and every one of you—participating by filling out the questionnaire and sending it in either to the archives or the GBW office address. We realize that filling out such a questionnaire can be a daunting prospect, particularly if you have been involved in the field in many ways over a number of years. Please do not put it on a back burner. Do not bury it in your mountainous “to do” pile. It is on colored paper for a reason, namely so that you cannot lose sight of it. Do not worry if you cannot be exact about dates and places: generalize if you need to. Skip sections that are not applicable, or that you have a problem with for some reason. We would rather have something—even if it is not as detailed as we might wish—than nothing. And anyone who sends in articles and photos gets extra points. But do it today. Or at the latest, send it back with the election ballot in June. Or at the very latest, include it with your membership renewal.

We aren’t quite to the point of saying that you cannot renew without it, but it is tempting! We are counting on you to do your part, and we will be reporting back.

This project is for posterity, for the biographers of the future. Please help out.

Betsy Palmer Eldridge

MID-YEAR REPORT

This is the first time that a mid-year report has been published for the membership. In recent years, the executive committee has reviewed GBW’s financial position throughout the year and evaluated how that position relates to the approved budget for the year. Please note that this summary covers the 6 month period ending 12/31/04. Much of GBW’s revenues are received from June through November (membership and Standards revenues). To a lesser degree, much of GBW’s annual budget is disbursed during that same time period. Not yet disbursed in the first 6 months of this fiscal year are ongoing administration expenses, publication of the remaining journals, newsletters, the remaining backlog of videos (there are only 4 remaining to be edited and produced) and membership directory. Also in this years’ budget, but not yet accomplished, are the supply directory and newsletter indexing. I anticipate that GBW will end this year very close to budget. I do not anticipate having to draw from the Cash Reserve fund for budgeted expenses and projects.

2005 GBW ELECTIONS

Ballots for the 2005 Elections will be sent out to GBW members on June 1. The Nominating Committee has prepared the following slate of nominees for the offices up for election in this odd-numbered year:

Vice President:
DONIA CONN
JAMES REID-CUNNINGHAM
Secretary: CATHERINE BURKHARD
Treasurer: ALICIA BAILEY
Membership Chairman: CRIS CLAIR TAKACS
Journal Editor: DOROTHY AFRICA
Supply Chairman: SYLVIA RAMOS ALOTTA

If you would like to nominate a candidate for any of these positions, please send the name of your nominee to the Nominating Committee Chairman, Priscilla Spitler, before May 15, 2005.

Your nomination should also include brief biographical information about the nominee, a statement of their willingness to serve if elected, and a signature of endorsement from five members in good standing who support the recommendation.

100th Anniversary Exhibition
Organizational work on the 100th anniversary exhibition is proceeding well on all fronts. At this stage I am confident to be able to announce that the exhibition will travel to: The Grolier Club, New York; the Newberry Library, Chicago; the University of Utah, Salt Lake City; Portland State, Portland, the Bridwell Library, Dallas; the Boston Athenaeum, Boston.

The intent-to-enter form went online several weeks ago and to-date over 30 entries have been received, with more on a daily basis. Early returns show an even split between fine/edition binding” and artists’ books. The online intent-to-enter form can be found at http://palimpsest.stanford.edu/byorg/gbw/, with a paper-based back-up form being included in this issue of the Newsletter. To facilitate catalog preparation, much of the entry process will be online.

The official entry forms along with information on jurors, the final exhibition schedule, and other details will be released when available, but no later than early 2006. Initial jurying will be online from digital images, with final selection from the actual pieces. Digital images, slides, and prints will be accepted, and remember a good first impression is critical, so make sure your images are good. The entry deadline is May 1, with actual items due June 1, 2006. The three jurors will be announced at a later date.

In addition to the juried traveling exhibition, there will also be a retrospective component that will only be on display at the Grolier Club, but included in the catalog. We are viewing this as “50 from the past 50 years,” recognizing that the vast bulk of obtainable retrospective works will likely fall into this category. Of course, older works will gladly be included.

All members are encouraged to look through their old GBW exhibition catalogs and to nominate their favorites. Please fill out the suggestion form at http://palimpsest.stanford.edu/byorg/gbw/ as completely as you can. If you have a longer list, please send it in an e-mail or typed with all necessary information. This includes: binder, title of work, title of exhibition and date, and information that will help us locate the book. Don’t wait, as we will need to have secured all items by May 1, 2006 so that they can be included in the catalog. Please direct all nominations to the URL above, or to:

Christine Smith
Mending Paper

This presentation reviews materials and techniques that fine art conservators use to mend tears and fill losses. Natural and synthetic adhesive possibilities are surveyed, with emphasis on the preparation and use of wheat starch paste. Choosing tissues and papers and toning or bleaching them is also discussed, with samples. Various mending techniques are described and demonstrated, including traditional mending with wheat starch paste and tissue, remoistened adhesive strips, heat-activated tissues, solvent-activated tissues, and pressure-sensitive materials. Filling materials and techniques are outlined, including tissue laminates, paper inlays, and pulp. Tools and methods for adjusting the surface finish are discussed and demonstrated, including texturing tools, tissue overlays, and pulp.

Christine Smith is President and Chief Conservator at Conservations of Art on Paper, Inc. (CAPI) in Alexandria, Virginia. CAPI treats fine art and rare manuscripts for an international clientele of museums and collectors. Ms. Smith received an M.S. in Art Conservation from the Winterthur Museum-University of Delaware and served as paper Conservator for the Smithsonian Institution’s Conservation-Analytical Laboratory and National Portrait Gallery before founding CAPI. She also holds an A.B. in Art History from Vassar College.

❖ MINNEAPOLIS 2002❖

Dennis Ruud
Illumination

Ruud constructs an illuminated page on vellum, using tools and techniques of modern calligraphers, inherited for the most part from pre-Gutenberg scribes and illuminators. Included in the demonstration is quill-cutting (and knife-making), vellum preparation, writing, gilding on gesso (essentially the Cennino method), and application of color onto a traditional design motif. At the end there is a finished illuminated folio (double-page folded opening).

Dennis Ruud has studied and practiced calligraphy for twenty-five years, with special interest in the traditional tools and methods. He is the supplier of cut quills to the retail mail-order calligrapher suppliers, and has taught many workshops in these areas of study at Minnesota Center for Book Arts and elsewhere nationally. He has been, for nineteen years, a book conservator, working privately out of his home workshop in South Minneapolis.

The special price of videos for members is $25 plus $5 s/h; the price for non-members is $40 plus $5 s/h. Maximum shipping on domestic orders is $15, so no shipping is charged after three videos. On orders of ten or more videos, a 20% discount with the higher non-member price is waived ($20/video), along with a flat shipping charge of $15. Orders should be sent directly to GBW Treasurer, Alicia Bailey. For more detailed information:

In Memoriam

Muir Dawson, who oversaw the Dawson’s Book Shop in Los Angeles for more than 50 years, died Monday night in his Silver Lake home of heart failure. Dawson’s is Los Angeles’ oldest continuously operating bookstore.

A partner in the store since 1947, Muir Dawson specialized in rare books on the history of printing. He also led several projects in the Dawson family’s publishing business. Between 1906 and 2003, Dawson’s Book Shop published 383 projects. “It is questionable if publishing by booksellers at present is a moneymaking activity, but it certainly is fun,” Dawson wrote recently in an essay on his life in the book trade due for publication later this year.

The shop is known for its rare books on California history, Western Americana and more recently, photography. Tragic events directed the bookshop toward its specialty of California and Western books a year after it opened — the 1906 San Francisco earthquake and fire, which destroyed most of the state’s rare books. Seeing an opportunity, Ernest Dawson bought all the old California books he could locate and sold them to the barren libraries, bookstores and collectors at considerable profit. Ernest Dawson published the city’s first catalog of rare books in 1907. Four years later, he made his first buying trip to London and Rome with $300. He shipped home dozens of books in crates. “This business was built on buying cheap in London and selling cheap in Los Angeles,” Muir Dawson told The Times decades later.

The bookshop also became known for its catalogs, indexed for years at the UCLA Powell Library and considered a valuable tool for bibliographers and librarians. The Dawson brothers were credited with helping UCLA librarian Lawrence Clark Powell build the university’s Special Collections after World War II.

After a course in printing at Scripps College while completing his degree at Pomona College in 1949, Muir Dawson began building the shop’s inventory of books devoted to fine printing and book art. Intrigued with the work of early 19th century British wood engraver Thomas Bewick, he gradually added woodblocks and other artifacts of printing history, as well as graphic art from Japan.

“Father said a bookseller shouldn’t be a book collector because it competes with the customers,” Muir Dawson said. “But we think he meant they shouldn’t be big collectors. I think that if a seller isn’t collecting, there’s something dead in him. You’ve got to have the passion for books.”

Muir Dawson was a former local and national president of the Antiquarian Booksellers Assn. of America and former president of the Book Club of California. A memorial service is planned for April in connection with Dawson’s centennial.

Marbling

Iris Nevins

Many of us knew Muir Dawson from rare book shows. He was both a collector and bookseller, and he sold and promoted books on marbling for several decades. My dearest memory was when I went to his shop and he had arranged a meeting with Christopher Weimann and myself in the upstairs room at his store. Chris and I swapped marbling stories and shared our mutual enthusiasm for various techniques. Muir sat with us and said little, but was thoroughly enjoying himself listening to our rather arcane discussions on the chemical and physical properties of different pigments, what works or doesn't work, how we could make our reds behave better, the best papers to use, adventures in publishing, and on and on.

Paradise Printed & Bound: Book Arts in Northampton & Beyond celebrates the activities of people involved in the book arts in Northampton, Massachusetts, and vicinity. The book contains a historical overview by the book’s editor, Barbara B. Blumenthal; Barbara A. Brannon, a scholar in the field of publishing history, remembers the Hampshire Bookshop, a beloved institution in Northampton from 1976 to 1971; bibliotec-t David P. Bourbeau recalls Leonard Baskin and the Gehenna Press. A census of book workers and organizations in the area from 1954 to 2004 completes the generously illustrated volume. The first 300 copies include an original letterpress-printed wood engraving of a pomegranate by Leonard Baskin [135pp. 18.25 x 9.5 inches].

Paradise Printed & Bound, published in December 2004 by the Northampton 350th Anniversary Committee, is available for $24.00 (plus $2.00 s/h) from the Committee at P.O. Box 1420, Northampton, MA 01061. An order form is available at http://www.gazettenet.com/350 (Books without the Basking engraving are $20.00). Contact:

Announcing two new publications from the Scripps College Press, Claremont, California:

Cut & Dried
Published December 2004, on that most fascinating of subjects, food. Case-bound in avocado and iridescent green bookcloth and letterpress printed on Frankfurt Creme, with woodcuts, photographs and accompanying poems and stories.
Edition 100 copies; 6.5” x 16.875”; $200.00

Beorum II: Fragmentary Evidence
Edition 93 copies; 6” x 6”; $250.00

The transition from medieval to Renaissance is a fascinating period in history, where letters written by hand are supplanted by those made of metal. At the center is Gutenberg, who copied contemporary German textura and the scribal practice of abbreviating words to produce his magnificent Bible and other printed works in the fifteenth century. His inventions of the hand mould for casting movable type and the printing press were risky ventures, requiring ingenuity, determination and not least, capital. The eight student producers of this book are also risk-takers. They assessed the various levels of risk one takes in creating a new book: stories and images have to be developed, cohesiveness managed, and technical skills learned.

To purchase either of these editions, please send a check to:
Scripps College Press
1030 Columbia Avenue
Claremont, CA 91711
plus $9.00 for shipping and insurance; include sales tax of $16.50 if you are a California resident for Cut and Dried and $20.63 for Beorum II.

For further information, contact Kitty Maryatt, Director of the Scripps College Press, 909-607-3866 or KMaryatt@scrippscollege.edu. These books are also available for purchase at UCLA’s Hammer Museum in Westwood.

EXHIBITIONS

"CALL FOR ENTRIES"

Plans for GBW’s 100th Anniversary Exhibition are currently underway. All the current details can be found on p.5 of this Newsletter. Official entry forms along with information on jurors, the final exhibition schedule, and other details will be released when available, but no later than early 2006. Initial jurying will be online from digital images, with final selection from the actual pieces. Digital images, slides, and prints will be accepted, and remember a good first impression is critical, so make sure your images are good. The entry deadline is May 1, with actual items due June 1, 2006. The three jurors will be announced at a later date. Contact: Peter Verheyen; verheyen@philobiblon.com

Calligraphers and artists from around the world are invited to participate in the 11th annual GRACEFUL ENVELOPE CONTEST, conducted by the Washington (DC) Calligraphers Guild under the sponsorship of the National Association of Letter Carriers. The contest is open to all ages, with two separate categories for children. This year’s theme is ANYTHING BEGINNING WITH A P. “P” is for post office, penguins, peaches and so much more … so give P’s a chance as you design an artistic envelope around anything that begins with the letter “P.” The deadline for entries is Monday, April 18, 2005. There is no entry fee. Entrants are encouraged to incorporate the theme in a creative and artistic way while using hand-executed calligraphy or fine lettering to address the envelope. Inventive relationships between the postage stamp(s) used and the envelope design are also encouraged. Complete details are at http://calligraphersguild.org/envelope.html

SOCIETY OF BOOKBINDERS INTERNATIONAL COMPETITION: Entries may be made in one of four categories—Fine Binding, Restored/Conserved Binding, The Complete Book (a section where the content of the book is also judged and can be the work of more than one craftsman) and cased bindings. The estimated prize fund is approximately 5000 pounds sterling with two top prizes of 1000 pounds (one for best binding by a Professional binder the other an amateur or Non-Professional). There are first and second prizes available in all the above categories along with prizes for forwarding, finishing, and highly commended prizes. In 2003 there were 16 prize winning binders—7 of whom came from outside the UK. Registration is required, for a form which includes all the rules and fees payable, e-mail StuBrockman@aol.com and we can send you all the relevant information. The deadline for submitting bindings is June 1. All bindings are exhibited at an exhibition at the Conference in Bath and the winning bindings are then taken on a travelling exhibition around the UK to include the Barbican Centre, London.

75th Anniversary Celebration of The Crane Museum of Papermaking: This exhibit will showcase the creativity of papermakers and paper artists using recycled United States currency as the central design element. The Crane family first made currency paper in 1775 for Paul Revere to help finance the American Revolution, and has made the paper for all US Currency since 1879. Artists wishing to create works for the exhibit will receive a four-ounce supply of shredded currency, which must appear as a significant element of the work submitted. Inclusion of a work in the exhibition will be at the discretion of the Curator. Artwork must be received by May 1, 2005. For more information, contact: Peter Hopkins peteh@gargancommunication.com

The Elements: Creative Energy: August 14-October 16 at The Hunterdon Museum of Art in Clinton, NJ. Western belief was that four elements: earth, water, fire and air work in concert; to create balance out of chaos. In eastern tradition there are forms of energy, or forces of nature, that interact with our whole physical, psychological and emotional balance. This exhibit asks you to explore and respond to the theme by creating an artist’s book or broadside. The exhibit will be curated by Maria G. Pisano. The museum has fixed the problem with downloading the prospectus for the exhibit. For more information contact Donna Gustafson at 908-75-8415 ext 17 or donna@hunterdonartmuseum.org

The Book of Origins: Entry Deadline Extended! A design binding exhibition organized by Les Amis de la Reliure d’Art with the Bibliothèque Gabrielle-Roy. The Book of Origins: A Huron creation myth collected in the 1940s by the famous ethnologist Marius Barbeau serves as the basis for the Livres des Origines, a poetic rewriting of the myth that André Ricard, writer and homme de théâtre, produced. The final work, produced in a luxury edition and illustrated with original lithographs by artist Carmelle Martineau, will be published as a limited, numbered edition. Out of one hundred and twenty-five copies, one hundred will be reserved for the international bookbinding competition. The goal is to work at the junction of art and myth. One of these myths, which inspires by its singularity, will serve as the figurehead for the project.

WORKSHOPS, LECTURES, & OTHER EVENTS

March 13 – May 6: North Carolina: BOOKS AS VOICE
BOOKS AS ARCHITECTURE with Jean Buescher Bartlett at Penland School of Crafts. Words, images and their physical presence on a page’s surface will direct our investigations in the interconnected Books & Paper, Photography, and Printmaking studios. Numerous ideation and writing exercises will coax out content to then be housed in tandem with photographically derived imagery in one-of-a-kind or limited edition book inventions. In turn, these constructions will be explored for their many tactile, visual, portable, architectural, and geometric qualities. The photo instructor is Deborah Brackenbury. Visiting artists: Nancy Leavitt and Deborah Luster. For more information call 828-765-2359 or visit www.penland.org

APRIL 8 & 9: New Haven, CT: As part of the 25th Anniversary of CAW’s Book Bindery, there will be a workshop with Monique Lallier and Don Etherington: Gold tooling, inlays and onlays, illustrating French and English methods. Fri. & Sat. 9:30–5. Please contact Creative Arts Workshop at 203-562-4927 or visit: www.creativeartsworkshop.org

APRIL 9: Portland, ME: Pop-ups! with Crystal Cawley at Wolfe Editions. Contact Crystal at 207-772-0811 or visit crystalcawley.com for more information.

APRIL 9 & 10: Aurora, NY: Decorating Paper with Colored Paste with Carol Blinn at the Wells Book Arts Center. For more information call 315/364-3266.

APRIL 10: Lecture and Bindery Reception & Celebration: A talk and slide show by Monique Lallier and Don Etherington, illustrating the influence they have had on one another in their differing binding approaches at 1PM. A reception will follow, celebrating the 25th anniversary of the Creative Arts Workshop Bindery and the current exhibition of fine bindings by Lallier and Etherington. Contact Creative Arts Workshop at 203-562-4927 or visit: www.creativeartsworkshop.org

APRIL 10: The Curious Art of Fore-Edge Painting, presented by Martin Frost at the Milton S. Eisenhower Library in Baltimore, Maryland. The one-day, hands-on workshop will teach the techniques of English water coloring onto book-edges. Martin Frost teaches fore-edge painting in England and has taught the art in Northern California. He has painted over 3,000 book-edges and his work can be found in many institutions, national and private collections worldwide. The lecture is Friday, April 8, 2005 from 6PM–9PM. It is free and open to the public. The Workshops are April 9 and 10. The time for each is 9AM–5PM. Fee: $250.00, plus cost of supplies $60 (for pre-gilded book, clamp, and instructional booklet). For more information about the workshop and registration, contact Martha Edgerton at 410-516-4677 or Martha.Edgerton@jhu.edu.

Harcourt
Southern California Chapter. Join us for four intensive days of seminars, workshops, and panels—or register on a daily basis. Topics will include: the history of artists’ books, a look at emerging Los Angeles artists, current trends in cataloging artists’ books, access and preservation issues, and facilitating the collecting of artists’ books. Each of the conference’s four days will take place in a different cultural venue, including MOCA, Otis College of Art and Design, William Andrews Clark Memorial Library, and the Getty Research Institute. The last day of the conference will coincide with the opening of the exhibit, The Artist Turns to the Book (May 24 – September 11, 2005) at the Getty Research Institute. One of the books chosen for the exhibit is Faster Jim, an edition of 30 books bound in aluminum by Kitty Maryatt.

A bonus for all will be the opportunity to exchange information with artists, librarians, archivists, collectors, and others. The cost is $80 for ARLIS members and $100 for non-members. Kitty Maryatt will be giving two three-hour workshops at the ABC LA conference on May 22 on making artists’ books and will lead a panel discussion on May 23 on the subject of education in the book arts. There will also be a space for vendors and artists who sell books. For further information, go to the web site arlis-sc.org and click on the link to ABC LA Conference.

MAY 22–27: College Station, TX: 2005 Book History at A&M Workshop: The fourth annual Book History at A&M Workshop in the Cushing Memorial Library and Archives. This five-day workshop provides an intensive, hands-on introduction to the history of books and printing with an emphasis on hand press era printing and its allied technologies—typecasting, papermaking, bookbinding, illustration, and ink-making. Students will have the opportunity to cast type in a hand mould, set lines of type, impose formes, make paper, produce relief and intaglio illustrations and print on a replica common press. The workshop is intended for librarians, archivists, students, teachers, book collectors and private individuals who work in areas related to or who have an interest in the subject. The workshop also includes a series of evening lectures by scholars active in the field of book history. To register, find out more, or see photographs from previous workshops, go to: http://library.tamu.edu/bookhistory.

JUNE 1–4: Salt Lake City, UT: Intensive workshop with Hedi Kyle of Pennsylvania: A Portable Hoard. Wednesday through Friday, 9-5, Saturday, 10-5. Contact: Jen at jen.sorensen@library.utah.edu or 801.585.9191

JUNE 2: Salt Lake City, UT: Lecture given by Hedi Kyle: Show and Tell: Of Booklore and Book Madness. 5:30PM. Contact: Jen at jen.sorensen@library.utah.edu or 801-585-9191

JUNE 6–17: Steamboat Springs, CO: PBI 2005 will be held at the Lowell Whiteman School outside Steamboat Springs. Instructors include Sylvia Alotta, Jim Canary, Anna Embree, Liz Jeneid, Chela Metzger, Bea Nettles, Martha Romero, Margaret Sahlstrand, Rich Spelker, Mina Takahashi, and Eileen Wallace.

JUNE 10–12: Worcester, MA: The American Antiquarian Society announces, “Histories of Print, Manuscript and Performance in America.” More than two dozen speakers will explore how the verbal arts of print, manuscript, and performance reflected and influenced each other in pre-twentieth-century America. For more information visit www.americanantiquarian.org

JUNE 12–18: Cynthia Thompson (from the Memphis College of Art) will explore various western sheet forming and watermarking techniques. On June 19-25, Helen Hiebert, who owns “Enlightened Papers” in Portland Oregon, will work with participants to make paper with which they will create lamps and lanterns. Also during the June 19–25 week, Iowa artist Emily Martin will lead a book arts class in which participants will learn a variety of techniques to create handmade books, often using handmade papers.

Shakerag Workshops is a small workshop program, operating for only two weeks in June, in which participants and faculty members live, eat, and work together for a week on the Sewanee mountaintop. Each evening after dinner faculty members give slide/lectures, and our studios are open through the evening. Our website, www.shakerag.org, has pictures of our facilities and of our 2004 program, as well as more information about our June 2005 workshops. Enrollment in our classes is very limited, but we still have a few places left in our papermaking classes (our limit is 15 participants in each class). The cost of the week-long workshop is $550 which includes tuition and meals, and housing costs vary from $125–$200 for the week. I thought that you might enjoy this program, and June is a wonderful time for an escape from the ordinary routine.
