Guild of Book Workers

Standards of Excellence

Washington, DC
2013
Table of Contents

- In Memoriam ................................................................. 3
- GBW Past Journals Available ........................................ 3
- Calendar of Events: Exhibitions, Call for Entries, Workshops, Lectures & Other Events .............................. 4
- Online Workshops: Thoughts from both sides of the webcam .................... 8
- Library Report ............................................................... 10
- The Marbling Tray .......................................................... 11
- Artists’ Book Cornucopia IV .............................................. 12
- Membership Report ....................................................... 14
- Study Opportunities ....................................................... 15
- DVD Review ................................................................. 16
- Chapter Happenings ....................................................... 17
- GBW Journal: Call for Papers ........................................... 18

---

GUILD OF BOOK WORKERS 2011 - 2012 BOARD OF DIRECTORS

OFFICERS AND COMMITTEE CHAIRS

- PRESIDENT: Mark Andersson, PO Box 89640, Tucson, AZ 85752; 520-628-7241
  president@guildofbookworkers.org
- VICE PRESIDENT: Anna Embree, PO Box 856184, Tuscaloosa, AL 35486-007; w: (205) 348-2398
  vicepresident@guildofbookworkers.org
- SECRETARY: Catherine Burkhard, 6660 Santa Anita Drive, Dallas, TX 75214; h & w: (214) 363-7946
  secretary@guildofbookworkers.org
- TREASURER: Alicia Bailey, Box 200984, Denver, CO 80220-0984; p: (720) 230-4566
  treasurer@guildofbookworkers.org
- COMMUNICATIONS: Henry Hébert, 11 Elm St. #1, Somerville, MA 02143; 919-360-3425
  communications@guildofbookworkers.org
- EXHIBITIONS: Amy LeePard, 2315 Seventh Street, Northport, AL 35476; h: (205) 758-4198
  exhibitions@guildofbookworkers.org
- JOURNAL: Cara Schlesinger, 825 East 9th St., Apt. 6C, Brooklyn, NY 11230; h: (917) 414-4575
  journal@guildofbookworkers.org
- LIBRARY: Ann Frellsen, 221 Chelsea Dr., Decatur, GA 30030; h: 404-733-4694; w: 404-727-0307
  library@guildofbookworkers.org
- MEMBERSHIP: Chela Metzger, 5105 Kennett Pike Blvd. 58 #3, Winterthur, DE 19735; h: 302-888-3381
  membership@guildofbookworkers.org
- NEWSLETTER: Cindy Haller, PO Box 703, Seabrook, TX 77586-0703; h & w: (281) 474-7100
  newsletter@guildofbookworkers.org
- STANDARDS: Brenda Parsons, 487 West Burton Rd., Thomasville, NC 27360; 336-665-1317; h: 336-472-4572
  standards@guildofbookworkers.org

CHAPTER CHAIRS

- NEW ENGLAND: Todd Pattison, w: (617) 495-3494; h: (978) 475-5604 - newengland@guildofbookworkers.org
- NEW YORK: Erin Albritten, w: (212) 822-7364 - newyork@guildofbookworkers.org
- DELAWARE VALLEY: Jennifer Rosner, w: (215) 546-3181 - delawarevalley@guildofbookworkers.org
- POTOMAC: Dan Paterson, w: (202) 707-6635 - potomac@guildofbookworkers.org
- MIDWEST: Emily Martin, w: (319) 430-5775 - midwest@guildofbookworkers.org
- LONE STAR: Catherine Burkhard, h & w: (214) 363-7946 - lonestar@guildofbookworkers.org
- CALIFORNIA: Marilyn Bonaventure, w & h: (714) 639-4010 - california@guildofbookworkers.org
  Marcia Moore, w & h: (310) 722-9004
- ROCKY MOUNTAIN: Ethan Ensign, w: (801) 718-4874
  Pamela Leutz, h: (214) 538-6324 - rockymountain@guildofbookworkers.org
- SOUTHEAST: Bridgett Elmer, h: (347) 489-3493 - southeast@guildofbookworkers.org
- NORTHWEST: Paula Jull, w: (208) 282-4260 - northwest@guildofbookworkers.orgs

---

SUPPLIERS AND SERVICES

The Newsletter accepts advertisements

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Size</th>
<th>Price</th>
<th>Dimensions</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1/8 Page</td>
<td>$40</td>
<td>3 1/2” w x 2 1/4” h</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1/4 Page</td>
<td>$75</td>
<td>3 1/2” w x 4 1/2” h</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1/2 Page - vert</td>
<td>$140</td>
<td>3 1/2” w x 9 1/2” h</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1/2 Page - horiz</td>
<td>$140</td>
<td>7 1/2” w x 4 1/2” h</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Full Page</td>
<td>$265</td>
<td>7 1/2” w x 9 1/2” h</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

For inclusion in the August 2013 Newsletter, send camera-ready art via electronic files by July 1, 2013 to: newsletter@guildofbookworkers.org

GBW solicits advertisements but reserves the right not to accept an advertiser’s order. Advertisement must warrant that ads are legal, truthful, not fraudulent, do not violate copyright, and are not defamatory, and that all permission to quote and use likenesses and trademarks must have been obtained. Advertisers must indemnify GBW against any claims or actions that should arise.

---

In Memoriam

Fran Manola 1916-2013

Fran Minola, calligrapher, bookbinder, and member of the Guild of Book Workers, died March 10, 2013 at the VA facility in Lyons, New Jersey. She was 96 years old. Fran’s work and personal papers are now part of the Rutgers collection of NJ Women in the Arts, thanks to rare book librarian Michael Joseph.

GBW Past Journals Available

The following bundles of the Guild of Book Workers Journal are available for purchase on a first come first serve basis. Individual volume titles for these bundles are not available.

If you are interested in purchasing any of these bundles, please contact treasurer@guildofbookworkers.org with the number you are interested in to make payment arrangements. The price of each bundle includes shipping to a US address.

Bundle #6 – 33 volumes 1964 - 2006 - $99
Bundle #7 – 22 volumes 1971-2001 - $66
Bundle #10- 33 volumes 1964 - 2004 - $99

Newsletter Error:

In the April issue the “Tuscon Book Arts” article, the city and title of the article were misspelled (Tuscan instead of Tucson). Apologies to Mark Andersson, the author; this was the editor’s mistake (even spellcheck couldn’t save me!) - Cindy Haller
EXHIBITIONS

Currently and through July 10, 2013: Horizon, the Guild’s Traveling Exhibition, in Special Collections Exhibit Hall, Chicago Public Library. Future venues: 8-1-13 to 10-31-13, Penrose Library, University of Denver and 11-7-13 to 1-23-14, Loyola University, New Orleans.

CALL FOR ENTRIES

By June 14, 2013, to Register for 2013 Society of Bookbinders International Bookbinding Competition, Entries due July 12, 2013. Five categories: fine binding, case binding, the complete book, restoration, and historic binding. All books on display during the biennial SoB Conference in Leeds, August 29-31, 2013, then winning books will form a touring exhibition around the UK. For details: >www.societyofbookbinders.com/events/competition/2013/2013.html<

By July 1, 2013 for entry form for Tangibles: Beauty and Purpose in the Art of the Book presented by the Northern Arizona University Art Museum. A juried exhibition to go from September through November, 2013, created in the belief that the physical artifact of a book can offer sensory experiences and imaginative encounters that the realm of digital facsimiles and “virtual” art cannot. For more information: >http://nau.edu/CAL/Art-Museum/Tangibles—Beauty-and-Purpose-in-the-Art-of-the-Book/< and click on the Prospectus link for more entry info.

WORKSHOPS, LECTURES & OTHER EVENTS

June 6, 2013: Gallery Talk by Jana Pullman, about the Guild and its Horizon Exhibition works on display. To be at 6:00 p.m., Chicago Public Library, Special Collections Exhibit Hall, 9th Floor, Harold Washington Library Center. Free/open to public; sponsored by Midwest Chapter of the Guild.

June 20 through November 1, 2013: School for Formal Bookbinding with Don Rash, located between Wilkes-Barre and Scranton, PA. Contact: >www.donrashfinebookbinder.com/sfbmain.html<

- Jun 10-14 or Sep 10-14: Introduction to Leather Binding
- Jun 17-21 or Sep 17-21: Full Leather Binding
- Jul 15-19: Foundations of Hand Bookbinding
- Jul 22-26: Introduction to Case Binding
- Oct 21-25: Cloth Binding Conservation
- Oct 28-Nov 1: Leather Binding Conservation

September 5 to October 3, 2013: Workshops with Houston Book Arts Guild, Museum of Printing History, Houston, TX, first Thursdays, 6:00-8:00 p.m. >www.houstonbookarts.org<

- Sep 5 – Decorated Capitals Calligraphy with Anne Rita Taylor
- Oct 3 – Pop-ups with Anna Phillips

- Jun 3-7: Fundamentals of Gold Tooling with Don Glaister
- Jun 10-14: Edge to Edgier – Gilded and Decorative Edges with Peter Geraty

June 29 through July 27, 2013: Workshops with Richard Horton at Conservation/Restoration Department, Bridgeport National Bindery, 662 Silver St., Agawam, MA:

- Jun 29-30: American Springback Working Composite Model
- July 26-27, 2013: Photo Album Structures and Strategies

Contact Mr. Horton at >albumsandsuch@gmail.com<.

June 14 through August 2, 2013: The John C. Campbell Folk School, Brasstown, NC, with the following classes. Contact: 800. FOLK-SCH or >www.folkschool.org<

- Jun 14-20: Intergenerational Week, for adults with kids ages 12-17
- Jun 16-22: Little/Middle Folk School, for young folks ages 7-17
- Jun 23-29: Print It! Book It! with Gay Bryant & Bob Meadows
- Jul 7-13: Making Pages, Making Books, Making Art with Sandy Webster
- Jul 14-20: Intergenerational Week, for adults with kids ages 12-17
- Jul 28-Aug 2: Beginning Bookmaking with a Textile Twist (6 days) with Chad Alice Hagen

On June 8, 5:00 p.m., a “Gala Benefit and Auction” will be held at the School to support the School. Get more details at >http://www.folkschool.org/auction/<

June 27-28 and 29-30, 2013:  Workshops with Karen Hamner, Oregon Focus on Book Arts Conference, Forest Grove, with the following classes. Contact for this and other classes: >>www.karenhamner.com<<

  Jun 27-28:  Streamlined Style: Contemporary Decorative Techniques for Leather Bindings

  Jun 29-30:  Biblio Tech: Reverse Engineering Historical and Modern Binding Structures

  NOTE: Guild members are invited to participate in the Trade Fair, held during the Conference. Go to >>http://cbbag.ca/cbbag_AB2013_conference.pdf<< for registration info and vendor info, or contact Trade Fair Co-ordinator, Colin Bate at >>colinhate@shaw.ca<<.

July 13 through November 9, 2013:  Workshops at J. Willard Marriott Library, University of Utah, Salt Lake City. >>www.bookartsprogram.org<<. Contact: 801.585.9191 or >>bookartsprogram@utah.edu<<

  Jul 13:  Tunnel Vision with Laura Decker and Emily Tipps

  Jul 26-27:  The Amazing Dremel with Jill Timm

  Aug 16 & 24:  Let’s Get Digital with Laura Decker, Mary Toscano, David Wolske

  Oct 4-5:  Digital Fountain: Repurposing Digital Printing with Clifton Meador

  Oct 23-Nov 13:  The Articulate Hand: An Introduction to Calligraphy with Louona Tanner

  Nov 9:  Press to Post in a Day with Mary Toscano

July 21 through September 22, 2013:  Workshops at Wide Awake Garage, Easthampton, MA with Daniel Kelm, >>http://danielkelm.com/<< for details:

  Jul 21-26:  The Leather Intensive

continued on page 6
Calendar of Events - continued from page 5

Aug 17-18: Leather Onlay and Inlay

Sep 21-22: The Book Restructured: Wire Edge Binding

Jul 29-Aug 2: Re-creating the Medieval Palette with Cheryl Porter

Aug 5-9: The Syriac Book with Checkley-Scott and John Mumford

Aug 12-26: Mamluk Bindings with Kristine Rose and Alison Ohta

Aug 19-23: Early Gothic Binding (late 13th century) with Jim Bloxam and Shaun Thompson.

For further information and to download registration forms: >http://home.vicnet.net.au/~bookbind/ or email bookbindingsympo-sium2013@gmail.com<

August 29-31, 2013: Training/Education Conference 2013 hosted by The Society of Bookbinders, England, at Leeds Metropolitan University with 16 instructors offering workshops to choose from. Contacts: >conf.organiser@societyofbookbinders.com< or SoB Conference Organiser, 30 Grundys Lane, Malvern Wells, Worcs , WR14 4HS UK. >www.societyofbookbinders.com<

October 4-6, 2013: The 2013 Australian Bookbinders’ Symposium, at the RMIT Brunswick Campus, Victoria, Australia, hosted by The Victorian Bookbinders’ Guild. Optional day on Monday, October 7, for tour of the State Library and associated attractions.

Classes for 2013: Centro del bel Libro, Ascona, Switzerland.
Many class offerings in “Bookbinding and Design” and “Book and Paper Conservation” available throughout the year. List of classes with dates and other information available at >http://www.cbl-ascona.ch/<. Click on "EN" for text to show in English. Catalog available in pdf. format -- will have full course descriptions and information.

Catherine Burkhard
as of 5-5-13

The Campbell-Logan Bindery, Inc.

Tokuyjo, Asa, Tsumugi, Shark, Tokusei, Shantung, Saifu, Mohair & Ginga

These are some of the names represented in hundreds of choices of exceptional and unique Japanese bookbinding fabrics warehoused and in stock for immediate delivery.

You need this cloth more than we do.

The Campbell-Logan Bindery, Inc.
212 Second Street North
Minneapolis, MN  55401

Phone (800-942-6224)
Fax (612-332-1316)
info@campbell-logan.com
ANNOUNCING
THE 2015 HELEN WARREN DEGOLYER
BOOKBINDING COMPETITION
at Bridwell Library
Perkins School of Theology
Southern Methodist University

HELEN WARREN DEGOLYER AWARD
FOR AMERICAN BOOKBINDING
Honors the entry that demonstrates the best of creativity and craftsmanship in the art of fine bookbinding: $6,000 commission

AWARD FOR EXCELLENCE IN FINE BINDING
Recognizes a completed binding that demonstrates excellence in structure and use of materials: $2,000 prize

AWARD FOR DESIGN
Recognizes a design that demonstrates originality, effectiveness and appropriateness to the selected text: $1,000 prize

2015 marks the twentieth anniversary of the founding of the Helen Warren DeGolyer Triennial Competition for American Bookbinding.

In honor of this event Mrs. DeGolyer’s unbound copy of Bernard C.
Middleton, The Restoration of Leather Bindings (Chicago: American Library Association, 1976) has been selected as the award commission for the Seventh Helen Warren DeGolyer Triennial Competition for American Bookbinding.

Binders are invited to submit a design for The Restoration of Leather Bindings and one of his or her completed bindings as an example of techniques proposed. For submission instructions and other information about the competition, exhibition, and conference visit the website at:
www.smu.edu/Bridwell/About/DegolyerBookbindingCompetition
One of the more pleasing aspects of being a bookbinder is the continual drive to develop new skills or refine existing ones. When I was recently presented with the challenge of binding a book for a set of photography prints that would need to open flat, I sent my former instructor from North Bennet Street, Jeff Altepeter, an email to help me brainstorm. After discussing a few options, Jeff directed me to the upcoming workshops at BINDING re:DEFINED. My attention was caught by two different workshops offered by Benjamin Elbel: Onion Skin Binding and The Shrigley. Both structures are quite unique and appeared as possible solutions for my project.

The only problem facing me now was location. As a recent graduate living in Boston, a trip to Wiltshire, England for a 3-day workshop did not seem feasible. I contacted Benjamin through the help of Lori Sauer (who runs BINDING re:DEFINED) in the hopes that he could send me a tutorial or publication on either of these book structures. After a few exchanges via email, Benjamin and I decided to experiment and run a workshop through the video conferencing platform, Skype. The topic of using such a platform for teaching workshops had been bouncing around on the Book Arts Listserv, so Benjamin and myself were eager to jump at this opportunity.

The workshop with Benjamin was based on The Shrigley structure and ran for a total of 2.5 hours over two separate Skype sessions. Benjamin developed The Shrigley to house a set of postcards based on the artwork of David Shrigley. Without the use of glue, plastic sleeves or photo corners, this structure is based on an ingenious two-sided corner construction that forms a frame on either side of the page. The structure is rather versatile in how the pages can be arranged and bound; a perfect solution to house a set of documents of the same size.

The first session began at 9:00 am in Boston and 2:00 pm in London. As we connected via Skype, my computer screen received video of Benjamin’s workspace viewed from above. Arranged on his bench was a cutting mat, a few tools labeled “BEN” and two pieces of paper. Benjamin’s voice came through clearly and delivered the first set of instructions on how to create the folded frames and cut the four different corners. After just half an hour of instruction, the session ended and I finished prepping a set of eight paper frames for the next round.

During the second session, Benjamin walked me through how to sew together the frames using a pamphlet stitch to connect the pages in a concertina style. A stub was tipped into the fold when sewing to provide additional strength. A simple hardcover case was constructed with two pieces of millboard and a thin, flexible spine piece covered in cloth. Ribbon was inserted into the boards to aid in the closure of the book. Once the case was covered and lined, the frames were fixed to the case using double-side tape and a touch of PVA.

Receiving instruction through a live video feed was surprisingly easy. The connection never lagged and the video stayed clear, making it easy for me to read any measurements or notes that Benjamin had jotted down. Benjamin’s directions were clear and easy to follow. Any questions I had were relayed and sorted out with ease. For example, while folding my frames I made an error with the direction of the fold, which I didn’t realize until the near end of the second session. After correcting my error, Benjamin and I discussed the importance of reviewing the student’s work before proceeding to the next step. If my camera were also set-up above my workspace, it would have made reviewing my work much easier for Benjamin. However, I was using the built-in camera on my laptop. I therefore, had to hover the paper frames in front of the camera, twirling it around so Benjamin could assess the work I had done. But we made due with the technology and equipment that we had on hand.

At the success of our experiment, I think performing workshops through a video conferencing platform such as Skype or Google Hangout could serve as a viable way for bookbinders to connect and spread their teachings through the community on a broader scale. I think it’s wise... to acknowledge that online workshops may not be suitable for all types of workshops and that the ability to learn varies from student to student. A certain disconnect occurs between the instructor and student, which could be a learning curve for some.

On a final note, I’m pleased to have had the chance to meet such a talented bookbinder that has created many innovative structures. Benjamin is someone I may not have met otherwise, if not for his interest in offering this workshop.

From the instructor’s angle
by Benjamin Elbel

When Erin approached BINDING re:DEFINED, expressing a wish to learn some of my structures without being able to physically travel to England, I said to Lori Sauer as a joke: ‘Maybe I should offer her the course via Skype!’

A few days passed and I found myself researching the subject of external video cameras, options for building a moveable arm allowing to focus on the workspace, sorting out the logistics (time difference, payment options, etc) and rethinking the course to make it suitable to that format. What was meant as a joke was turning into reality and my first session with Erin confirmed the viability of the project.

As with every new venture, we are learning as we do it. Erin already pointed out the importance of checks during the course. The other crucial thing is to carry out a quality check of sound, video and internet connection to make sure that good communication can be established. The easiest way to find out about this is to have a brief Skype session a few weeks before the start of the course.

As far as the contents are concerned, I think most subjects could be taught via video conference, but there are at least two points to consider:

1) Equipment: Students will be using their own equipment and can’t be expected to all have a fully working and well maintained bindery at their disposal. So, unless stated in the course description, it’s preferable to offer subjects that require only basic equipment.

2) Degree of difficulty: When a student is having difficulties in a traditional ‘classroom’ workshop, the instructor can help by completing the action for the student. This is different online, which means that the content of the course has to be very well thought through by the tutor to avoid situations where students could be stuck.

With those limitations in mind, it seems to me that the strength of the video conference format, as opposed to pre-recorded videos or other kinds of tutorials, is the possibility of dialogue. My personal experience of learning from books or videos is that there are usually points that I simply don’t get, for one reason or another (language, insufficient explanation, lack of image/diagram...), and what to do then?

If this happens in an online course (or traditional course), it’s easy enough for the students to ask the tutor to explain in a different way or with different words. Plus, students can even benefit from each other’s explanations.

I see many possible developments for online courses. Video conferencing platforms can also offer extra features to help improve communication. For example screen sharing could be used to display diagrams or other didactic material, such as slideshows of images related to the subject, etc...all making for a richer learning experience.

Check out Benjamin’s online course offer at >www.elbel-libro.com<
Library Report

Standards 2011 DVD’s Available for Purchase or Loan

The following four DVD’s from the 2011 Standards of Excellence Seminars are now available for purchase or loan. To borrow one or more of these or any of the other ninety-five DVD’s in the library collection, please contact Ann Frellsen at library@guildofbookworkers.org.

Islamic Bookbinding, by Katherine Beaty. Demonstration of the construction of an Islamic style bookbinding from start to finish. Islamic bindings are often elaborately decorated, as the binding is covered and decorated off the book. Islamic bindings are best recognized by the chevron endbands and foredge flap. While incredibly intricate and time-consuming to produce, the Islamic chevron endband is also an integral component of the binding structure. This presentation shows how the various components of the structure are a product of use within a cultural context and play an important role in their conservation.

Edition Binding: A Hybrid Approach, by John DeMerritt. One of the most compelling components of edition binding is the “ensemble” aspect of its practice. The edition binder collaborates out of necessity; combining technical, aesthetic and practical skills and considerations to conceive a piece that is larger than the sum of its parts. This presentation focuses on using a hybrid approach, looking at some of the particular methods, techniques and approaches utilized in John’s studio – mostly tried and true trade skills. He also discusses and demonstrates his forays into the use of laser cutters, digital mat cutting and digital printing on fabric and leather.

Scratching the Surface: Disguising and Embellishing Wood, by Daniel Essig. Wood, when painted, burned and stained has a sensuous patina, and it is a versatile and forgiving material. Through demonstration and example Daniel shares the tricks and techniques he uses to create a time-softened feel of antiquity in his sculptural books and wooden journals. He also demonstrates his version of the Caterpillar Binding, which he redesigned to be sewn as an embellishment rather than as a structural element, opening a new range of binding possibilities.

Conservation of 19th Century Publisher’s Bindings, by Todd Pattison. Although 19th century cloth Publishers’ Bindings were typically produced in multiples, many of these bindings are just as rare or historically important as leather bindings from the same time period. This presentation focuses on techniques for quickly and sympathetically repairing cloth bindings of artifactual value. Although these techniques were developed for production approach to treating circulating collections, they can also be appropriate for the treatment of special collections materials and for use by conservators working in private practice.

Ann Frellsen, Library Chair
The Marbling Tray

by Iris Nevins

ALUM, Cold, Warm, Hot, Boiled?

I recently received a question from a beginner marbler, whose paints would not take to the paper. Marbling is mysterious at times, well many times, and what works for one person doesn’t work for another, and certainly nearly all marblers have a slightly...or drastically... different way of marbling as well at times. For marbling we use Aluminum Sulphate or Aluminum Potassium Sulfate. Both work well. Other types, such as the kind from grocery stores or pharmacies do not work so well for marbling. We ruled out that these types of alum were useless and the marbler had the right kind of alum.

She concluded that her problem was due to having used boiling water to dissolve the alum. I was quite surprised, because over my 35 years of marbling, I have tried dissolving alum many ways, and for different amounts of time, and no matter how I dissolved it, it worked the same. Maybe this is not the experience of others, but it is mine, so I never say another marbler is “wrong”, but that some things work for some and not for others.

I have dissolved my alum in cold water, let it just sit overnight. That worked. Sometimes though, if you do this in cold weather, you may find little “Diamonds”...really crytals of alum that look like a slightly faceted diamond, in the bottom of the jar. This is always a wonderful surprise. I can’t seem to make it happen, it just happens sometimes. Sometimes it has happened when the water was hot, then cooled overnight too though. In any case, alum dissolved in cold water works.

Other times, I have tried using boiling water, and that too worked. Generally, I just use my hot tap water and that is fine. I never saw any difference in marbling results that were due to the temperature of the water it was dissolved in.

I have used alum on paper when it was cold, when it was warm, but never when just made with boiling water... it was cooled to warm or cool. Again I found no difference in how it worked due to the temperature the solution was when applied to paper.

Some marblers do feel that alum becomes ineffective if it is made with boiling water, and I would never argue that this is untrue or they are wrong, but this is not so in my experience. Using warm water or hot tap water, I find, will dissolve it more quickly, and I like to get going and not wait around too much. It works just fine and the warm water is very comforting to the hands as well!

The one thing I have become pretty certain of is that no matter what temperature water the alum solution was made with, or what temperature it was when applied, is that if you intend to keep it after treating you need to totally dry it. I use a clothes line overnight for this. Once the alum is applied, if you stack the paper damp, you may have as little as a half hour (in very warm weather) to maybe a day or two, to use it, or it will lose effectiveness. That said, marbling likes to be contrary, and makes its own rules at times, and I have heard of people who have damp-stacked their alumed papers (some place them stacked in a plastic garbage bag overnight or longer too!) coming back and using leftover papers weeks later and they still worked. Not my experience however! If I dry-stack them though, and they are kept in humidity of about 55% or under, they can last for years.

I suspect our marbler whose paints wouldn’t take had another issue, perhaps a paper with calcium carbonate buffering was used. This is known to negate the effects of alum. How do you know if a paper is good for marbling (sigh... most are not these days!) and you don’t know what it is? Alum it, let it dry and TASTE it! If there is a sweet-tart taste, the alum is good, and the paper should be good also.
As a regular visitor to Abecedarian, I’m used to spending time exploring and learning about the many aspects of book art that the gallery offers. It was easy to spend a couple of hours immersed in the current exhibit, Cornucopia IV - a great pleasure to touch (especially the cashmere!) and manipulate each piece to see what would be revealed. It’s a bit harder to absorb a show with the intention of reviewing it, but I’m grateful for a reason to be a more careful observer.

It is very obvious that the annual Cornucopia exhibits have grown since the first one held in 2009. “Cornucopia” may have been a title chosen with hopeful optimism and that confidence has been surely justified. This year’s juror, Mary Murphy, Visual Resources Librarian at Savannah College of Art and Design in Atlanta, Georgia, selected 50 works from nearly 200 entries, including works from throughout the USA as well as from Canada, Australia, the Netherlands and the United Kingdom. Some the artists are familiar to me, and it is great to see their latest projects. Others are emerging artists, new to me; many (in both categories) exhibited compelling, well-executed work.

Almost every structural category of the book arts is represented: codex, including pop-ups, dos a dos; flag, accordion, star, carousel, triangle, map-fold and tunnel structures; as well as the scroll and sculptural forms, including paper blocks. A reach for me is the piece by Erin Paulson. This work consists of a series of small abstracted fragments, embroidered and stuffed into a series of small containers (like small pillows) scattered across a flat support. I’d welcome a conversation with the artist and/or juror to discover the sequential narrative or essence of bookness there.

The tactile treats are bountiful for those of us who love to touch; a variety of papers, the impression of letterpress on both hard and soft papers; a variety of materials used as covering, ranging from the traditional cloths and papers, parchment, the previously mentioned cashmere - which I’m sure must be the most petted piece in the show (Servane Briand’s de’chirures), to found objects. For instance, Merike van Zanten uses a small letter box cover to contain her homage to the correspondence of an affianced couple. The acrylic coated canvas of Beata Wehr’s, Blue book about the past supports metal objects affixed with stitches; also compelling in its abstraction.

Compelling content made me linger. I was struck by the number of works driven by strong emotion: the impulse to honor a loved one, to commemorate a personal experience/ relationship or to speak out against injustice.

Don’t ignore a closed text block in its case, even if it’s under glass. I was so rewarded for making the effort of opening the entries by C&C Press; lined notepaper (in letterpress!) honoring poet Morton Marcus in his own hand (via polymer plate?) and also set in letterpress. The exposed spine sewing of IN THE FACE OF IT, reveals the printed title by adjusting the registration of the print on the outer folds of each signature.

Several pieces drew me back to enjoy them again, each for a different reason.

Fond, by Sarah Bryant (the Juror Choice Purchase Award recipient), is simple, elegant and witty, as well as demonstrating impeccable craft.

Jessica Spring’s simple accordion in a matchbook cover holds An Inflammatory Guide: Banned & Challenged Books You Should Read. I hope hundreds were printed and that they are distributed widely. Where can I get one?

Memories Unfolded by Sun Young Kang features delicate cut-outs enhanced by the subtle shadows created by its structure.

Call a Wrecking Ball to Make a Window by Shana Agid links personal testimony and a map of NYC to create unique intersections between the two.
Barbara Milman’s Unnatural Histories #33, holds a 3-dimensional sea in an altered cigar box.

Kimbery Maher’s Crooked is a clever homage to nursery rhymes with sweet pop-ups in shades of blue using porchoir.

Sammy Lee’s Three Willows Bindery is most fascinating to me. The text consists of color photographic images that morph like an exquisite corpse due to the variation in page size and shape and as well as their pleating; a very deliberate and thoughtful piece.

If you can get to Denver, plan a stop at Abecedarian. The catalog is fine, but it’s no substitute for the pleasures of sensory and intellectual stimulation you’ll find by immersing yourself in this exhibit.

Karen Jones
GBW Member - book and paper conservator in private practice

NOTES:
1) GBW members’ work represented in this article
2) Exhibition runs through June 8, 2013. For more information:
   Abecedarian Gallery - Denver, CO
   www.abecedariangallery.com

---

THE AUGUSTINE COMPANY, INC.

Same Day Service

- HOT STAMPING DIES
- DIES 16 GUAGE, 11PT., 1/4, AND 3/8
- SPECIAL BASE UPON REQUEST
- WOOD BASE DIES
- T-BASE DIES
- EMBOSsing DIES
- DESkTOP PUBLISHING

Competitive Pricing!

The Augustine Company, Inc.
P.O. Box 797 • 1210 Industrial Blvd.
Marshalltown, Iowa 50158
641-753-3875 • FAX 641-753-0635
www.augustinedie.com
ed@augustinedie.com
STUDY OPPORTUNITIES

Be sure and check the “Workshops, Lectures, Events” section of the Calendar for specific offerings.

American Academy of Bookbinding • Telluride, CO
Intensive courses for beginner to advance students in conservation, fine leather binding and related subjects. Diploma programs available.
Contact: >www.ahhaa.org< or 970.729.8649.

The Book Arts Program at the J. Willard Marriott Library
University of Utah • Salt Lake City UT
Classes, Lectures, Workshops, Exhibitions
>www.bookartsprogram.org< or 801.585.9191

John C. Campbell Folk School • Brasstown, NC >marketing@folkschool.org< or >www.folkschool.org< or 828.827.2775, x196

The Canadian Bookbinders and Book Artists Guild • Toronto, Canada
80 Ward St, Suite 207, Toronto, Ontario M6H 4A6
Fax 416.581.1053 or >cbbag@web.net< or >www.cbbag.ca<

The Center for Book Arts • New York City, NY
212.481.0295 or >www.centerforbookarts.org<

Center for the Book • San Francisco, CA
415.565.0545 or >www.sfcb.org<

Corcoran College of Art & Design • Washington DC
MA in Art and the Book • 202.298.2545
>www.corcoran.edu/degree-programs/graduate/ma-art-and-book<

Creative Arts Workshop • New Haven, CT
A community arts and crafts school for adults and children
>www.creativeartsworkshop.org< or 203.562.4927

Garage Annex School • Easthampton, MA
One Cottage Street #5, Room 503, Easthampton, MA 01027 – 413.527.8044
Workshops in traditional & non-traditional book arts, printmaking, book conservation
>Daniel.Kelm@mac.com< or >http://danielkelm.com<

Green Heron Book Arts
503.357.7263 or >bookkits@aol.com<

Hollander’s Workshops • Ann Arbor, MI
>www.hollanders.com<

Memory Press • New York
Classes and Workshops - Maria G. Pisano >mgpstudio@aol.com< • >www.mariagpisano.com<

North Bennet Street School • Boston, MA
Check >http://www.nbss.edu< for current and future bookbinding classes or call 617.227.0155 x102

Old Way • Santa, ID
Workshops with Jim Croft, Santa ID
>oldway@imbris.com< or >http://www.traditionalhand.com/oldway/<

Oregon College of Art & Craft • Portland, OR
>www.ocac.edu<

Paper Dragon Books • Brooklyn, NY
330 Morgan Avenue #301, Brooklyn, NY 11211
>www.paperdragonbooks.com< or >info@paperdragonbooks.com<

Panther Peak Bindery • Tuscon, AZ
Classes with Mark Andersson - P. O. Box 89640 - Tucson, AZ 85752 (five acres on the outskirts of Tucson, near Saguaro National Park) 520.682.7241 - >mark@pantherpeakbindery.com<

Penland School of Crafts • Penland, NC
828.765.2359 or >www.penland.org<

Pyramid Atlantic Art Center • Silver Spring, MD
301.608.9101 x105 or >www.pyramidatlanticartcenter.org<

School for Formal Bookbinding • Plains, PA
Ongoing instruction with Don Rash in the German tradition learned from Fritz and Trudi Eberhardt.
>www.donrashfinebookbinder.com< or 570.821.7050

Seattle Center for Book Arts • Seattle, WA
>www.seattlebookarts.org/classes/class_2008q2_paper.html<

Studio-on-the-Square • New York City, NY
Intima Press & Studio-on-the-Square, 32 Union Square East, #310, NYC.
>www.StudioOnTheSq.com< or >www.IntimaPress.com< or 917.412.4134

The University of Alabama • Tuscaloosa, AL
MFA in The Book Arts Program
>www.bookarts.ua.edu<

Wells Book Arts Institute Classes and Workshops • Aurora, NY
>www.wells.edu/bkarts/info.htm<

Women’s Studio Workshop • Rosendale, NY
For a complete listing of upcoming workshops, >www.wsworkshop.org< or 845.658.9133

Catherine Burkhard
as of 5-5-13
THE MAKING OF THE RENAISSANCE BOOK, a 1969 film by the American Friends of the Plantin-Moretus Museum, remastered on one region-free DVD by the Rare Book School at the University of Virginia; running time: 22 minutes, $25.

Today any one of us can use a computer and type a few letters on a keyboard, then press another button to print those letters on a sheet of paper. We are very fortunate with this modern technology that allows us to convey our ideas to the world with a few keystrokes. At the same time, some young children are amazed to sit at an oldstyle typewriter and see a letter magically appear on a sheet of paper with the stroke of a key, without the need for a separate printer. However, one must look back even further to the days when our ancestors had to cut and file a letter on the end of a piece of steel to make a punch for casting a single letter of type. THE MAKING OF THE RENAISSANCE BOOK is a superb film that shows the early process of making type in preparation for printing. The original 1969 black-and-white film is now available on DVD and should be seen by everyone interested in the art of the book.

The Plantin-Moretus Press was founded by Christopher Plantin in Antwerp in 1555 and remained in operation until it closed in 1876. At that time, the entire contents of the company were turned over to the city to be used as a museum to showcase all the materials from that time. In addition to the complete foundry and pressrom, there are the punches, matrices, and woodcuts as well as over 25,000 manuscripts and books.

When I first saw this film in the 1970s, I was impressed by the detail and the labor that was required and realized that technology remained virtually unchanged until the late 1800s. Sometimes, the film is a bit slow, but it certainly conveys the need for patience and precision, which may seem lost in our modern world. This video is a “must see” for anyone interested in the history and development of printing. It is important for a student of the books arts.

The film shows the basic technique that Johannes Gutenberg developed in the 1450s and how it revolutionized the making of a book. As we know, this invention allowed for multiple copies of a book to be printed rather than being handwritten. For this to happen, a letter cutter must first prepare a letter on the end of a bar of steel. During this process, smoke proofs are made along the way to insure a proper punch. When completed, that punch was struck in a bar of copper that is then prepared for the casting process.

The casting mold is described in the film and where a molten mixture of lead, copper and antimony are poured to cast a single letter. After a sufficient number of letters are cast for a “sort”, the pieces are then “dressed” – trimmed and finished – before distribution in the typecase. Of course, this laborious process has to be done for every single letter – both upper and lower case – plus all the ligatures, numerals and the punctuation.

As the film continues, we see the setting of that type and the galley prepared before being locked in a chase. That “forme” is then placed on the coffin of the wooden printing press that includes a tympan and a frisket. Fascinating!

The next step in the process is to transfer that forme to a damp sheet of paper using ink made of soot and linseed oil. And since mistakes in the typesetting are inevitable, the forme is continually corrected throughout the press run. During this time, paper was very expensive – normally about 60-65% of the cost – so most every sheet was later sold. In a typical 14-hour day (6 am to 8 pm), the Plantine-Moretus Press could produce 1250 sheets and that became the standard print run. After the printed sheets were collated and folded, the book was taken to market for sale. The purchaser would then take those sheets to his or her bookbinder. Over the years, the book market would evolve, which is a history unto itself.

While this film is a great introduction to printing during the Renaissance, the museum is still open to any traveler to Antwerp. You can see more at: http://www.museumplantinmoretus.be/Plantin-Moretus-EN/PlantinMoretus-EN.html

Included on this same DVD, Terry Belanger gives us a 30-minute presentation on The Anatomy of the Book – Format in the Hand-Press Period. This is an excellent introduction to the makeup of a book that is familiar to most bookbinders. Here he explains the different sizes of handmade paper as well as the basic types of paper – laid and wove – that is followed by the different formats of folio, quarto, octavo, etc. Cost for the combined dvd: $25.00 from >www.rarebookschool.org<

Also available from the Book Arts Press >www.rarebookschool.org< is another DVD: HOW TO OPERATE A BOOK as described by Gary Frost and Stan Nelson is featured in FROM PUNCH TO PRINTING TYPE. 1 hr,15 minutes combined; cost is $25.00
Both of these DVDs are also available for rent to members of GBW from the Guild Library at >http://guildofbookworkers.org/resources/videos_standards/video.php<

Bill Minter started his bookbinding apprenticeship with Bill Anthony in Chicago and then opened his own shop for binding and book conservation. In 1993, Bill moved his business to rural Pennsylvania where he continues to bind books and treat older, rare materials. During his career, he has developed a number of ideas, the most notable being the ultrasonic welder for polyester film encapsulation of paper.

---

Chapter Happenings

DELAWARE: Chapter workshop on Korean Paper in Art and Conservation with Aimee Lee and Minah Song, June 15-16, 2013, University of the Arts. For questions: >dvegbw@verizon.net<

LONE STAR: Chapter workshops to be held June 14-15, 2013, in Dallas, TX on New Oriental Binding with Catherine Burkhard as instructor...and on August 2-3, 2013, also in Dallas, with Richard Horton on Photo Album Structures & Strategies. Contact is Program Chairman Cindy Haller at >sourceart@comcast.net<

MIDWEST: Many activities, as follows:

- Held Annual Meeting April 12-13 in Iowa City, IA with many events, and elected new officers. Emily Martin (President), Mary Uthupurrpu (VP/Program), Peggy Johnston (Secy/Treas), Mark Arend (Newsletter).
- To host workshop August 10-11 with Helen Hiebert on Paper in Three Dimensions. Workshop Contact: >mary@springleafpress.com<
- Call for Entries for the Chapter’s 2013-15 Juried Exhibition of bindings of Julia Miller’s Books Will Speak Plain. Contact: >mary@springleafpress.com<. Deadline June 7.
- Sponsoring a Gallery Talk by Jana Pullman, an Horizon Exhibition Juror, talking about the Guild and the exhibition. Chicago Public Library, June 6, 6:00 p.m., Special Collections Hall. Free/open to public.

NEW ENGLAND: Workshops with Richard Horton, Chapter member, on American Springback Working Composite Model on June 29-30 and Photo Album Structures & Strategies on July 26-27. Chapter is now on Facebook.

Catherine Burkhard as of 5-5-13
Call for Papers

The Guild of Book Workers Journal welcomes submissions of papers, articles, essays and proposals for photo galleries for our forthcoming issues. Both members and nonmembers are welcome to submit. We will consider submissions addressing any of the fields represented by the Guild’s membership, including but not limited to:

- Bookbinding (Descriptions of techniques and how-to articles; discussions of particular structures, both old and new)
- Conservation (treatment techniques, what does or does not work, noteworthy programs, history)
- Artists’ Books (innovative structures, examinations of an artist’s body of work)
- Book art techniques (calligraphy, marbling, paper-making, printing)
- History (little-known events, figures, or movements; new findings about a period or particular development in the history of the book and book arts)
- Profiles (interviews with book artists, practitioners, conservators, collectors)
- “Galleries” presenting selections from a collection, an exhibition, or an individual’s body of work (if accompanied by a profile of that individual).

All submissions to the Journal will be peer-reviewed. Authors of accepted pieces will be expected to format their manuscript and image files according to our style guidelines, available upon request or online at http://www.guildofbookworkers.org/resources/journal/journal.php.

Send queries and electronic submissions (.rtf, .doc or .pdf formats with low-resolution placeholder image files) to journal@guildofbookworkers.org.

Submissions are accepted on an ongoing basis and considered for publication in the next forthcoming issue with space available.

Cara Schlesinger

Journal Editor
Advertisements and views expressed in articles should not be construed as endorsements by the Guild of Book Workers.

The Guild of Book Workers Newsletter is published bi-monthly by the Guild of Book Workers, Inc., 521 Fifth Ave., New York, NY 10175. Free Newsletter replacements to members will only be allowed for issues within one year of publication date. After this timeframe, if still available in hard copy, newsletters may be purchased via this link to our website: http://www.guildofbookworkers.org/resources/newsletters/index.php

For availability of back issues, contact the Guild’s Treasurer at >treasurer@guildofbookworkers.org<

Items for Publications should be sent to:
Cindy Haller / PO Box 703, Seabrook, TX 77586-0703
newsletter@guildofbookworkers.org

Deadline for the August 2013 Issue:
July 1, 2013

Items for the Calendar should be sent to:
Catherine Burkhard / 6660 Santa Anita Drive, Dallas, TX 75214
secretary@guildofbookworkers.org

Authors of articles and other contributions accepted for publication in the Guild of Book Workers Newsletter assign to the GBW Newsletter the right to publish their work in both print and electronic form, and to archive it and make it permanently retrievable electronically. Authors retain copyright and may republish their work in any way they wish.

Executive Editor: Cindy Haller
Book/DVD Review Editor: Frank Lehmann
Marbling Correspondent: Iris Nevins
Calligraphy Correspondent: Beth Lee
Conservation Correspondent: Tish Brewer

The Guild of Book Workers is a national organization, with Chapters in New England, New York, the Delaware Valley, Washington DC, the Midwest, California, the Rocky Mountains, Texas, the Northwest and the Southeast representing the hand book crafts. Membership is open to all interested persons. Annual membership includes the Journal and the Newsletter. An online Membership Directory is available to members. Supply Lists and Study Opportunities are available on the website (below). For information and application for membership, write to the Membership Chairman, Guild of Book Workers, 521 Fifth Avenue, New York 10175-0038 or you may apply for membership online (payable by credit card) at membership@guildofbookworkers.org

www.guildofbookworkers.org

BRASS PRINTERS’ TYPE

Tired of Replacing Zinc Alloy Type???

• Same Day Service on Stock Type
• Brass & Magnesium Hot Stamping Dies
• Long Lasting
• Competitive Pricing
• Custom and Stock Tyepstyles Available (Including Foreign Language)

VisiMark, Inc. is your local brass printers' type manufacturer. We also manufacture custom logos as well as type holders to fit every hot stamping machine. With over 100 years experience, we guarantee you’ll be satisfied with our product. We manufacture and ship from our Massachusetts facility for fast delivery.

Call for our free catalog!

VisiMark®

INCORPORATED

33 Arctic Street • Worcester, MA 01604
Ph: 800-222-4650 • Fx: 508-754-3063
Email: sales@visimarkinc.com • www.visimarkinc.com

38a Norway street
Portslade, E. Sussex
BN41 1AE England
Tel/Fax +44 (0)1273 424801

www.pandsengraving.co.uk
e-mail: info@pandsengraving.co.uk

33 Arctic Street • Worcester, MA 01604
Ph: 800-222-4650 • Fx: 508-754-3063
Email: sales@visimarkinc.com • www.visimarkinc.com